Colonel John Bruce Farrow of Mt. Gilboa was a pleasant caller on The Leader yesterday.

Mr. William Shea, after a visit of a week to relatives in this city, left for Covington this morning.

Mr. S. B. Oldham is in Cincinnati today to see his little daughter, who is undergoing medical treatment in that city.

Mr. Dr. M. H. Davis, after a pleasant visit to Mrs. L. W. Galbraith in this city, has returned to her home at Mayslick.

Misses Mary Thomas and Fannie Andrews, two of Fleming's charming young ladies, were visiting friends in this city Saturday and Sunday.

Very Personal.—Postage on drop letters, whether sealed or not, is 2 cents. Many persons send their letters through the Postoffice with only 1 cent stamp. These are "void for postage." Hereafter they must contain a 2 cent stamp.

Elsie Starks, breach of the peace, $5 and costs.

Born, to the wife of Mr. Louis Campbell, a son.

The apes are not all in the zoological gardens or menageries.

The Fiscal Court began its regular April term this morning.

The C. and O. will sell tickets for the Louisville Convention at half rates.

Eljah Jones, for a breach of the peace, was fined $8 and costs—$9.20 in all.

John E. Kinsaid was yesterday fined $5 and costs for being drunk and disorderly.

Colonel Jo Kludig of York, Pa., is here today paying cash for the right kind of horses.

The dwelling of Mrs. Julia Stubbfield at Rectortown was slightly damaged by fire Sunday.

Rev. J. S. Sims will preach at Mitchell's Chapel, Sixth Ward, at 7 o'clock this evening. All invited.

Advertisements are inserted on the first page of The Leader only upon special contract and at a special rate.

The Robertson Republicans instructed for Push for Congress, L. P. Tarleton, W. H. Holt, A. T. Wood and M. C. Hutchins for Delegates at Large, A. M. Cochran for District Delegate, O. S. Denning for Elector at Large and Robert Buckner for District Elector.

The popularity of The Leader is unquestioned, and its thousands of readers are not restricted to any particular class. Among the most ardent admirers is Master R. B. Levy, Jr., who, though only twenty-three months old, is wont to adjust his grandpa's "spec" and "read de Leader" every day.

THE GREATEST CREDITOR.
All this we grant the Editor,
And more than this beside:
He is the greatest creditor
That ever lived or died.

He credits for his weekly sheet,
Will credit for an "Ad."
And always credits what he clips,
But never credit had.

An Editor's supposed to live
On air and "printer's piffa"
He runs his paper just for fun,
His health and carcass.

Mr. Clarence Hughes, aged 22, and Mrs. Annie Garrett, aged 23, both of this county, will be married in this city Wednesday.

It's "Judge L. W. Galbraith" now, if you please. He was Presiding in the Police Court yesterday in the absence of Judge Wadsworth.

Regular meeting of DeKalb Lodge, I. O. O. F., this evening.

Judge Hutchins hasn't as yet made up his mind whether he will appoint a committee to present Mason county's case to the State Board of Equalization.

The Leader acknowledges an invitation to the opening of the baseball season at the Cincinnati Park Thursday, April 16th, with reserved seats for two in the grand stand.

The compliments passed upon Saturday's Leader were numerous and gratifying.

It is, indeed, a very great pleasure to know that our efforts are appreciated; and, encouraged by the flattering reception accorded to last Saturday's issue, it will be our aim to improve upon each succeeding number.

Remember, The Leader will print a Double Edition every Saturday, replete with choice reading for all tastes.

A limited number of Advertisements will be admitted at reasonable rates, and they will be given most advantageous positions if handed in before Friday noon.

The stockholders of the following Turnpike Companies met Monday and chose officers:

It's Like Walking In the Dark

to drop in any place you see the sign "Jeweler" when your watch don't keep time and you want it put in such condition that it will. Not one in every ten can make more than a bluff at cleaning it. It ought to be cleaned, of course, but cleaning is the smallest item of all that goes toward making a watch keep time. There are many fine adjustments that may have become deranged, or if some of the delicate parts are badly worn, it requires the highest grade of skill in watchmaking to repair it so it will keep perfect time.

A watch made right here—cut from the raw material, pronounced by experts to be equal to anything they have ever seen in finish and workmanship,—that we have carried for over ten years will sustain our claim to being the only place in Maysville where you can have your watch put in perfect order, no matter what it needs.

J. BALLENGER, Maysville, Ky.

FOUND THE WHISKY.

Experience of a Revenue Officer in North Carolina.

Philadelphia Times.

The remarkable story has just come to light in which figure moonshiners, a Revenue officer, a beautiful mountain maid of a North Carolina village, Cupid and bicycles.

In the summer a suspicion which the Revenue Department had long entertained ripened into certainty that there was an illicit still somewhere in this vicinity which was producing large quantities of "mountain dew." The local officials being well known to the inhabitants, the Department sent there a young man from New York, one John Dickson by name, whose instructions were to ferret out such information as he could get, while apparently occupied solely in fishing, hunting and otherwise passing a month's vacation.

The program was duly carried out. Dickson hunted and fished and kept his eyes open, but not even a whiff could he get of the forbidden liquor.

Naturally he had to seek his information of arousing suspicion by direct inquiry he confined his efforts principally to keeping his eyes open and his mouth shut.

One day, nearly two weeks after his arrival, he took his fishing rod and jour-mounting his wheel she sped away, while Dickson hurried behind.

The farmer insisted upon his staying all night, and he did so. It was a case of love at first sight. Dickson being an expert wheelman himself, was captivated by the beautiful mountain rider. Moonshiners were forgotten in the next few days. Within a week express, and was wheel sent him her love letters, and was more than pleased to comply with Sallie Newman's laughing orders that it must be kept at the farm. Every day they went out together, starting from the farm in the afternoon and riding through the leafy byways, frequently stopping at the residence of Sallie's aunt in the village for supper, and then going home in the moonlight.

Weeks sped away, until one day Dickson was rudely awakened from his dream of bliss by a peremptory order from Washington to return home, his mission having proven fruitless. Sadly he started out with Sallie for a final ride. All unconscious of his woes, Sallie twitted him upon his strange silence, and then challenged him to a race. Away she sped, and he was sorely tried to keep at her side. Neither noticed the fragments of a pane of window glass, dropped on the road by some unlucky farmer, until too late.

"Hold on, our tires are punctured," shouted Dickson, jumping from his wheel; "by the great horn spoon, what's that?" he added, gazing with amazement at a tiny stream of liquor spurting from both front and rear tires. A moment later the whole situation fell upon him.

"Oh, you little moonshiner," he murmured, and then he let his wheel fall and sprang to catch Sallie, who had swooned.

For six weeks the valiant Dickson had been assisting unaware the moonshiners by carrying whisky in his pantaloons ties, inserted at the farmhouse and deftly removed by Aunt Jane in the village.

Did he arrest the guilty maid? Not much. He resigned his position and married her, and the happy pair now live in Philadelphia, where they are often seen on a tandem in the park.

It is scarcely necessary to add that the tires are now inflated solely with air.

A horrid suspicion of cannibalism hangs about the advertisement of a St. Louis, U. S. man—"Wanted, a good girl to cook, and one who will make a good roast or broil and will stew well." Almost as barbarous is a farmer near Fulton, N. Y., who posted this notice in his field: "If any man's or woman's cows or oxen gibe in these oats, his or her head will be cut off, as the case may be."

NEWS NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The gulls reads $8.2 and falling.

The Virginia passed down last evening at 7 o'clock, beating her ton-ton.

Captain Lee Anschutz of Pittsburgh, backed by heavy capital, is in Cincinnati looking for a steamer to enter as an independent packet between Pittsburgh and Louisville. He has had offers of two steamers that he is considering. Captain Anschutz is a practical boatman, and it is hoped he will succeed in his new enterprise.

The Ohio is falling fast at all points. At Pittsburgh there is but 9.8, a fall of 4 feet; 15.0 at Wheeling, where there was a fall of 6.9, and 19.3 at Parkersburg, where the fall was 6.7. The Kanawha fell 7 feet at Charleston, where there is 7.8, and New river fell 1.8 at Hinton. At Pt. Pleasant there was a fall of 10.8, and 9.2 at Calletstown, while at Portsmouth there is 18.8, a fall of 7.4.

The big event of the river Sunday and Monday at Cincinnati was the record breaking race of the City of Louisville, so claimed by her owners, as there were no disinterested parties aboard when the runs were made and freight was not carried and passengers refused. The boat was stripped of everything that had a tendency to retard her speed, and for fuel nothing but the best Pittsburgh lump coal was used instead of the usual slack. It is said also that other fast steam making fuel was used. According to her officers the City of Louisville left Cincinnati Sunday morning, passing under the Suspension bridge at 7.18. She arrived at Louisville at 1.11 p. m., the distance being 138 miles. She left Louisville again at 3.15 p. m. arriving at Cincinnati Sunday night at 11.35, making the home run in nine hours and forty minutes, lowering her former claimed record of 9.42 by two minutes. She left Cincinnati again Monday morning at 7.15. It is claimed she ran from Madison to Louisville in two hours and five minutes. The distance is fifty miles. The Will. S. Hays made this run on one of her trips in one hour and fifty-five minutes. The City of Louisville on these trips made no landings between ports.

Mr. Phil H. Carpenter, son-in-law of Major Henry T. Stanton, died Sunday at Frankfort.

William C. Andrews.
This well known comedian will be seen here in Fred Madden's charming comedy "My Wife's Friend." Mr. Andrews has secured the same company that appeared in this comedy last season, together with elegant new printing and everything that could be secured to make it one of the best organizations traveling.

BRADLEY
A VERY large number of Justices of the Peace and Constables throughout Kentucky will very much regret to learn that the new Republican Administration at Frankfort has concluded to "set down" on a very large number of illegal "claims" which are on file up there, and which have heretofore been allowed. The looting of the State Treasury must be stopped; and the raids on County Treasuries ought to be checked also.
A MAN 59 years of age residing in Letcher county recently attended Church for the first time in his life. It is his hope he will not wait so long to make his second visit.
The deficiency in Uncle Sam's Treasury at Washington for the first four days of April was $2,541,412 75, for the fiscal year $2,541,412 75, and for the Cleveland Administration $1,431,522, 620 51. Oh, my! what a "record" you fellows are making over there on the Potomac!
The statement of Mr. KAUFFMAN of the Kauffman Milling Company of St. Louis, one of the largest exporters of flour in the country, that the sales of that concern in Cuba and Porto Rico were $3,000 to $4,000 per month before the reciprocity treaties were made, and about $25,000 per month during the time the treaties were in force, whereas since the repeal of the treaties they have fallen to from $2,000 to $3,000 per month, is a conclusive argument in favor of the party which established the reciprocity policy and will restore it as soon as possible.
It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Wood, Druggist.

ACCORDING to the monthly statement which Auditor STONE has sent to Governor BRADLEY, the following amounts are now in the State Treasury:
General expenditure $4,404 23
Sinking fund 164,043 24
School fund 22,000 78
Total $169,048 25
The legacy of debt left to Kentucky by the outgoing Democratic Administration, as shown by long outstanding warrants amounting to $436,595 89, which will in a few days be increased to upward of a million dollars, owing to the recent enactment which obliges the payment of the per capita allowance to Asylums and other institutions in advance.
HON. JAMES S. CLARKSON is one of those shrewd and observing politicians who is not given to talking through his hat. He was First Assistant Postmaster General under President HARRISON, and is now a member of the Republican National Committee from the state of Iowa. He was in New York a few days ago, and speaking of the Presidential situation this is what he said:
"I find that the McKinley sentiment is grossly exaggerated. After a thorough canvass of the situation, I find that it is hardly likely that MCKINLEY will come within 100 votes of securing the nomination on the first ballot. It is not nominated on the first ballot it does not seem to me that he will be nominated at all. The combination against him will be too strong."

BRADLEY'S CURRENCY PLATFORM.
"I am opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing it would destroy all National property. The gold dollar is the best dollar, and I am in favor of making every other dollar equivalent to it in value. I am the friend of silver, not because it can be best protected by holding it in such bonds as will insure its parity with gold as a circulating medium."

FATAL QUARREL.
A Fifteen-Year-Old Boy Shoots a Companion at Millside, Ky.
COVINGTON, Ky., April 7.—"Those are my niblings!" exclaimed William Christian, colored, 17 years old, on the Mallon pile, Millside, Ky., Sunday. In the quarrel which followed he was fatally shot by Joe Besterman, aged 15, a Christian and a companion named Northstar started the quarrel. Young Besterman pulled his revolver from his pocket and, holding it against Christian's side, fired.
The colored boy fell to the ground, and his companions helped him to his home. The ball entered the left lung, and Dr. Bird, of Millside, said the wound was fatal.
Besterman's father is a well-known painter in Millside. The boy went home and said nothing about the shooting. He was locked up in the Covington jail. William Christian died Monday.

Democratic Will Stay.
FRANKFORT, Ky., April 7.—In the circuit court Monday Judge Cullin decided that the board of public works created by the democratic council last year was a legal board and its members should hold the offices for many years. This means that the democratic freemen, workhouse keeper, appointed by said board will continue in office and can not be turned out by the present republican council that attempted to abolish the board by repealing the law creating it.
Clerkship Changes.
FRANKFORT, Ky., April 7.—Charles M. Randall, of London, Ky., succeeded W. F. Gray, a whisky tax clerk in the auditor's office Monday, and W. L. McCluskey, of Bourbon, succeeded Edward Henley as general bookkeeper for the same office. These appointments were made several days ago and the new men did not go to work until Monday.
There Was No Lying.
MR. STEELING, Ky., April 7.—There was a great danger of a mob Monday night. Cole and Cline, who, a few weeks ago, assaulted the little Millside girl, will probably swing before many a gallows in jail, but if mob violence nothing can save them. Two men in Everything Quiet. There will be no lying.

FOR CUBA.
House Indorses the Senate Resolutions by a Big Majority.
There Was Great Enthusiasm Among the Members and in the Galleries.
The Conference Committee of the Senate Having Already Agreed Upon the Resolutions, No Further Action Was Taken by That Body.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—The house members called Monday morning with a throng of interested people to hear the vote taken on the Cuban resolutions and to hear the reading of the report. There was an unusually full attendance of members in anticipation of the vote, the question being one on which all desired to make a record.
Mr. Hitt (rep. Ill.), chairman on foreign affairs, demanded the regular order, on the vote on the question of agreeing to the report of the committee on conference recognizing the adoption of the senate resolutions regarding Cuba, having been previously adopted by the house. On that Mr. Tucker (dem. Va.) demanded the yeas and nays, and they were ordered.
A roll call taken and resulted as follows: Yeas, 245; nays, 37—so the report of the conference committee was agreed to. The gallery united with members in applauding the vote.
The negative votes were cast by Messrs. Arnold, R. L. Atwood, Mass.; Black, N. Y.; Boutwell, Me.; Daniels, N. Y.; Draper, Mass.; Gillette, N. Y.; Gillette, Mass.; Grant, Vt.; Lefevre, N. Y.; McCall, Mass.; Moody, Mass.; Poole, N. Y.; Simpkins, Mass.; Wadsworth, N. Y.; Walker, Miss.; Walker, Va.; and Wright, Mass., republicans and Messrs. Berry, Ky.; Black, Ga.; Culbreath, Tex.; Elliott, Va.; Elliott, S. C.; Locke Hart, N. C.; Tucker, Va.; Turner, Ga.; and Tyler, democrats.
Mr. Hooker (rep. N. Y.) moved that the house pass under suspension of the rules the river and harbor appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1907.
Objection was made to dispensing with the reading of the bill and to extending the debate until 1 o'clock.
At 3 p. m. a message was received by the senate from the house, announcing the passage by that body of the concurrent resolutions of the senate in relation to Cuba, and at the same time Mr. Sherman (rep. D.) reported that the conference committee had agreed upon those senate resolutions, remarking that no further action was necessary on the part of the house.
The text of the Cuban resolutions voted upon Monday follows:
Resolved, that in the opinion of congress, the condition of public war exists between the government of Spain and the government proclaimed and for some time past existing in Cuba, and that the people of Cuba, and that the United States of America should maintain a strict neutrality between the contending parties, according to each, all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States.
Resolved further, that the friendly offices of the United States should be offered by the president to the Spanish government for the recognition of the independence of Cuba.
These are the same resolutions, concurred in by the house.

THE CUBAN RESOLUTIONS.
Do Not Require the Approval or Disapproval of the President.
New dispatches from Madrid, stating that it is expected in official circles there that President Cleveland will sign the Cuban resolutions, resulting in the recognition of the independence of the Spanish capital. As repeatedly explained they are "concurrent" resolutions, not "joint" resolutions, and are not subject to the presidential veto. The resolutions, which have grown up in recent years, "concurrent" resolutions do not require approval or disapproval by the president, who may act upon them or not as he chooses, but in no case is he called upon to sign them. Similar resolutions adopted by the senate in connection with Armenian affairs, January 20 last, remain unacted upon by the president.
Postmaster Ridgely's Claim Allowed.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—The postmaster general Monday sent to the house the claim of R. M. Ridgely, postmaster at Springfield, Ill., for credits on his postal account for $6,347 for postage stamps and key deposit funds stolen from his office in April, 1893. The funds were not lost through negligence and Postmaster General Wilson recommends the allowance be made.

A Parsonage Elected.
DUBLIN, April 7.—J. L. Carow, Parsonage, elected to the position of president of the College Green division of Dublin, Monday, to succeed Dr. E. J. Enney. Parsonage, who recently resigned his seat in the house of commons, Mr. Carow was not opposed.
Additional Judge for the Sixth Circuit.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—A favorable report was called over the Senate morning on the bill to create an additional judge for the sixth judicial circuit. This circuit is composed of the states of Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.
Won by the Allies.
NICE, April 7.—The yacht race for the cup, sailed over the harbor from Nice to Monaco and return, Monday, was won by the Allies. The Sata-nic was second and the Britannia third.
Washington, April 7.—In the senate Monday Mr. Cullum introduced a bill authorizing the construction of a bridge over the Illinois river near the town of Grafton.

Senator Voorhees Much Better.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—Senator Voorhees was much better Monday and as soon as the weather settles will resume his duties at the capitol.
